CoVid-19 lockdown eased; Assemblad back to full throttle

The fight against the “invisible enemy” is far from over and the number of infected people and victims around the world is sadly still increasing. Italy, first in Europe, had suffered a sudden CoVid-19 outbreak about 2 months ago that caused an overwhelming number of cases for the health system. And it has been devastating: nearly 200,000 infected people and more than 26,600 deaths represent one of the highest tolls in the world.

As an attempt to stop the spread of the virus, on March 9th, the government imposed the lockdown forcing people to stay home and limiting the industry to stay open only to those who are essential for logistics and food and medical supplies.

But now the situation has gotten better: the trend of infection is sensibly reducing and so is the hospital occupation to the point that the government found safe to ease the lockdown, after 7 painful weeks, and allow majority of the manufacturing industry to open back again.

Starting April 27th, Assemblad is back on full staff and full production capability; our partners and customers can count on us for the supply of quality garage equipment at the production rate as it was before.

The whole Assemblad staff want to express their sympathy to those who suffered from the CoVid-19, having lost relatives and friends or having become seriously ill or damaged in their life.

A heartfelt thank you to all who fight CoVid-19: doctors, nurses, civil protection staff and volunteers whose restless endeavour saves lives.
